The 3rd Educational Symposium on Radiation and Health by Young Scientists

ESRAH2016
1st-2nd October, 2016

Investigating Radiation Impact on the Environment and Health

Educational Lecture (EL) & Invited Talk (IT)

EL1  John Kildea, Ph.D. (McGill University, Canada)
“The Desired and Undesired Biological Effects of Ionizing Radiation, with a focus on Neutron-Induced Carcinogenic Effects (NICE)”

EL2  Kevin Kelleher, Ph.D.
(Environmental Protection Agency, Ireland)
“Radiation monitoring in Ireland and the impact and lessons learned from nuclear accidents”

EL3  Makoto Akashi, M.D., Ph.D. (National Institutes for Quantum and Radiological Science and Technology, Japan)
“Lack of knowledge and misunderstandings on radiation effects in health care providers”

IT1  Narongchai Autsavapromporn, Ph.D.
(Chiang Mai University, Thailand)
“The non-targeted effects induced by microbeam irradiation”

IT2  Tamotsu Kozaki, Ph.D. (Hokkaido University, Japan)
“Nuclear waste management in Japan and its related capacity building activities at Hokkaido University”

IT3  Thititip Tippayamontri, Ph.D.
(Université de Sherbrooke, Canada)
“Theranostic properties of intratumorally injected 18F-FLT and 5FU:concomitant tumor and metastases treatment”

IT4-1  Kovács Tibor, Ph.D. (University of Pannonia, Hungary)
“Biomonitoring of NORM contaminated sites”

IT4-2  Emilija Fidanchevski, Ph.D.
(Ss Cyril and Methodius University in Skopje, Macedonia)
“NORM4BUILDING COST Action: possibilities and challenges for young scientists”

Chair : Hiroyuki Date (Hokkaido University)
Contact : Graduate School of Health Sciences, Hokkaido University
(Kita-12, Nishi-5, Kita-ku, Sapporo 060-0812, Japan)
E-mail: esrah2016info@gmail.com
URL: http://esrah2016info.wix.com/hhem